DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

1. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Claims 1-15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101.

Claim(s) 1 is/are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 as not falling within one of the four statutory categories of invention. While the claims recite a series of steps or acts to be performed, a statutory “process” under 35 U.S.C. 101 must (1) be tied to particular machine, or (2) transform underlying subject matter (such as an article or material) to a different state or thing. See page 10 of In Re Bilski 88 USPQ2d 1385. The instant claims are neither positively tied to a particular machine that accomplishes the claimed method steps nor transform underlying subject matter, and therefore do not qualify as a statutory process. The determining link level performance method including steps of determining, processing, selecting and calculating is broad enough that the claim could be completely performed mentally, verbally or without a machine nor is any transformation apparent.

Claim(s) 9 is/are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 as not falling within one of the four statutory categories of invention. While the claims recite a series of steps or acts to be performed, a statutory “process” under 35 U.S.C. 101 must (1) be tied to particular machine, or (2) transform underlying subject matter (such as an article or material) to a different state or thing. See page 10 of In Re Bilski 88 USPQ2d 1385. The instant claims are neither positively tied to a particular machine that accomplishes the claimed method steps nor transform underlying subject matter, and therefore do not qualify as a statutory process. The determining random access channel (RACH) preamble detection performance method including steps of determining, calculating, determining and processing is broad enough that the claim could be completely performed mentally, verbally or without a machine nor is any transformation apparent.

Dependent claims 2-8 and 10-15 are rejected for the same reasons.

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments see pages 7-12 of the Remarks section, filed 12/10/2008, with respect to the rejections of the claims have been fully considered and are moot in view of new ground of rejections presented in this office action.
